

Oakland University School of Nursing

seeks applicants for the following positions.

Full Professor

A nurse scholar is being sought for the Crittenton Hospital Medical Center Endowed Professorship in Nursing. This position was developed for the purpose of designing and implementing a research infrastructure to support Relationship Based Care practices in the clinical environment and academia. Relationship Based Care (RBC) is a theoretical and operational model for care delivery being implemented at Crittenton Hospital Medical Center (CHMC) in partnership with Oakland University. The scholar will work with students and nurses from CHMC in enhancing and expanding intentional caring practices in healthcare. Candidates for the Endowed Professorship must have an earned doctorate in nursing as well as a record of successful teaching, scholarship, and service. Candidates must be an Associate or Full Professor who is eligible for tenure. Preference will be given to applicants who show evidence of scholarship focusing on caring theories and practices.

To apply, visit the OU Academic Positions site: <http://academicjobs.oakland.edu/postings/111>

Assistant Professors

Exceptional nurse researchers, practitioners, and educators are being sought for two tenure-track positions at the rank of Assistant Professor. Candidates must have a PhD or DNP and be eligible for Michigan RN licensure. Candidates will be required to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, demonstrate a commitment to service, and engage in scholarly activities. Applicants must show evidence of nursing expertise and scholarship in a given area, and teaching experience at the post-secondary level. Preference will be given to those candidates who maintain certification as a nurse practitioner.

To apply, visit the OU Academic Positions site: <http://academicjobs.oakland.edu/postings/110>

Special Instructor

The School of Nursing is seeking applications for full time faculty at the rank of Special Instructor. Candidates must hold a current registered nurse license or be eligible for Michigan RN licensure. Applicants will be expected to teach and show a commitment to service.

Qualifications include five years of clinical experience in one of the following areas: medical/surgical, pediatrics, psychiatric or community nursing and recent experience teaching at the college level. Applicants must have an earned master's degree in nursing from an accredited school. Preference will be given to those candidates who maintain certification as a nurse practitioner.

To apply, visit the OU Academic Positions site: <http://academicjobs.oakland.edu/postings/169>

The School of Nursing is accredited by CCNE and offers high quality, accessible educational programs, including basic BSN, RN/BSN, accelerated BSN second degree; MSN in nurse anesthesia, family nurse practitioner; adult-gerontology nurse practitioner, and nursing education; and a DNP program.

Applications will be accepted until February 17, 2012. For more information, visit the School of Nursing website: <http://www.oakland.edu/nursing>

Oakland University is a research intensive, state-assisted school of 18,000+ students located 30 miles north of Detroit, Michigan. It offers 110 undergraduate programs, 70 graduate and certificate programs, and division 1 athletics.